Paper 26.2 - Nothing to install: everything is server-side

Welcome

The server has several big custom systems, all built in-house: LoL-themed items with real abilities and stats, 25 custom armor-set enchantments based on champions (including nine new CELESTIAL sets from Mount Targon), 40 tool & weapon enchantments for everything from pickaxes to shields, a vein miner & tree feller that keeps your XP, and multiple homes. The world also runs at a higher World Level now - hostile mobs hit harder and have more health than vanilla. This guide explains what everything does and how to get it. You don't need to install anything - it's all on the server.

👉 Every custom item and enchanted piece has a full description in its own tooltip - hover it in your inventory to see exactly what it does.

Custom Enchantments

There are 25 armor-set enchantments. They go on the four armor pieces only (no elytra) and the bonus grows with each enchanted piece you wear (1 to 4). Each piece can hold only one set enchant. They are real Minecraft enchantments, so they show up in the enchanting table, apply from enchanted books via an anvil, and can be rolled onto a book too.

LEGENDARY SETS

The top table roll - a maxed 15-bookshelf table at the top slot, or an enchanted book out of a loot chest. Each is a complete build on its own.

Fire below the Mountain

LEGENDARY

Pieces	Effect
1	Living Forge - craft anywhere (sneak + right-click with an empty hand opens a crafting grid). Everything you mine drops already smelted, fuel-free. Immune to fire, lava and magma , never burn.
2	The Smith's Efficiency - ores drop +75% extra . Forge Aura: you and nearby players get permanent Haste II , and nearby furnaces smelt twice as fast .
3	Masterwork Gear - all your worn/held gear is truly unbreakable , and anvils cost no XP . Sneak + right-click a tool or armor piece to upgrade it one material tier (keeps its enchants) if you carry the materials - iron→diamond costs 2 diamonds , diamond→netherite costs 2 netherite scrap (scrap, not ingots). Anvils never ask for levels and never say Too Expensive - each use quietly eats 1 diamond instead.
4	The Great Forge - swap hands (F key) to raise a forge of netherite and magma around a god enchanting table , a full max-level (15-bookshelf) table where every slot costs 30 and the roll comes out +1 over the vanilla cap plus a chance at a treasure enchant (Mending, Frost Walker, Soul Speed, Swift Sneak) - and that over-cap level is real : it adds proper damage, and anvils will never downgrade it back. Everyone nearby gets Fire Resistance . It can't be mined , lasts 45 seconds , then vanishes on its own. 75 second cooldown .

Legendary - the second of its kind. Same brutal odds as the Revenant: a maxed 15-bookshelf table at the top slot, or an enchanted book from loot chests.

Complete the full set and you are given the Hammer of the Forge God - it mines a 3x3, auto-smelts and gives +75% extra of everything it breaks, and never wears out (only works while you wear the full forge-set). Sneak + right-click with it toggles Silk Touch mode - blocks drop whole instead of smelted and boosted. It also hits like a god: +6.75 attack damage, slow swing.

Grief of the Ruined King

LEGENDARY

Pieces	Effect
1	The Black Mist follows you - kills heal you and give a burst of Speed .
2	Your hits deal +6% of the target's current health as armor-piercing damage and heal you for a share of it.
3	Undead never attack you - zombies, skeletons, husks, drowned, strays, wither skeletons and phantoms ignore their king.
4	Killing any mob binds its soul : you gain absorption from it and you inherit its passive for as long as you carry it. Every one of the game's 92 mobs has its own passive and its own active power - there is no generic fallback. Only one soul at a time; a new kill replaces it. While holding the Blade of the Ruined King : sneak + right-click uses the soul's active power (20s cooldown, the soul is kept), and a plain right-click releases it as a loyal spirit of that exact mob for 60s. A killing blow is refused - the bound soul is spent instead and you heal to full.

Soul powers - what sneak + right-click does depends on whose soul you carry. Blaze/Ghast hurls a fireball; Creeper detonates (hurts enemies, breaks no blocks); Enderman/Shulker blinks you to where you are looking; Wither/Wither Skeleton fires a withering blast; Skeleton looses a five-arrow volley and Stray a freezing one; Warden sounds a sonic boom; Illagers roar a war cry; Ravager/Goat/Polar Bear charge; Guardian/Drowned call the tide; Squid blinds with ink; Phantom/Bat/Parrot give you wings; Slime bounces and Rabbit/Frog leap; Witch brews; Iron Golem/Hoglin hurl everything away; Zombies drag enemies in with the horde's grip; Wolf howls (buffs your allies); Spider/Bee/Pufferfish poison; Copper Golem calls lightning; Creaking roots and blinds; Sniffer grants luck and haste; Villager grants Hero of the Village; Ender Dragon breathes.

Soul passives - carried traits include Fire Resistance (nether mobs), Water Breathing (aquatic), Speed (spiders, cats, horses), Night Vision (Enderman, Warden, Vex), Resistance (golems, Ravager, Panda), Slow Falling (fliers), Regeneration (Witch, Allay), Jump Boost (Slime, Rabbit, Goat), Haste (the undead), Strength (illagers), Luck (Sniffer, Villager) and Saturation (farm animals).

Legendary - possession and near-immortality, but only while you hold a soul.

Complete the full set and you are given the Ruined Blade - the Ruined King's sword. +6 attack damage, and every hit deals 9% of the target's current health as armor-piercing damage (it ignores armor, so it bites tanks and geared players) and heals you for a share of it.

Roar of the Relentless Storm

LEGENDARY

Bloodied fury (all tiers): the lower your health, the harder the bear fights - you gain +0.75% damage dealt AND +0.75% damage reduction for every 1% of health you are missing, each capped at +18.75% (reached at the full set; fewer pieces scale it down). The damage reduction even applies to true damage - nothing bypasses it.

Pieces	Effect
1	Your hits crackle with lightning for bonus damage .
2	Under half hearts you deal more damage and gain Resistance - the bear fights hardest when bloodied.
3	You cannot be slowed and keep Strength while fighting.
4	Every few hits a real lightning bolt strikes your target and arcs to nearby mobs ; you regenerate.

Legendary - a melee bruiser. Good at everything in a fight, master of none.

Complete the full set and you are given Stormfang - the Relentless Storm's axe. +7.5 attack damage, and every hit chains lightning to up to 3 nearby enemies.

Wrath of the Unconquered King

LEGENDARY

A fire set built around Reckoning - a ring of flame you switch on and off at will. It costs nothing to hold, but everything it earns resets the moment you end it, so the reward is for staying in the fight.

Pieces	Effect
1	You are immune to fire, lava and magma and never go hungry . The ring sets nearby enemies ablaze ; anything that strikes you catches fire and burns for it , and everything you hit is set alight .
2	Your hits syphon durability out of the target's gear and into your own, and enemies missing any armor take double fire damage.
3	The ring can set blocks alight (sneak + right-click Demon's Bane to toggle; the fire burns out on its own and destroys nothing permanently) , and you heal for half of all damage you deal .
4	While reckoning, your damage and fire grow +1% per second and per kill (up to +56%), you swell to 1.75x size with matching speed and jump , you take 15-41% less damage , everything the fire kills feeds you its XP wherever it dies, and you hold a molten shield (regenerating absorption, up to 4-5 hearts) that every kill refills.

Legendary - rolls at a maxed 15-bookshelf table at the top slot, or turns up as an enchanted book in loot chests.

Complete the full set and you are given Demon's Bane - right-click it to enter or leave Reckoning, sneak + right-click to toggle whether the ring burns blocks.

CELESTIAL SETS

Rarer than legendary - Mount Targon's nine. They roll at a maxed table or turn up as enchanted books in loot chests, same as the legendaries, just less often. On their own they're strong specialist sets; together, all nine are the only way to craft the Hymn of the Star Forger (see THE EXALTED SET).

4	Sneak + right-click: Lunar Rush - dash to the enemy you're looking at and strike for heavy burst damage (15s cd).

Diana's set - grows stronger under moonlight.

Pantheon's set - a war god who fights best surrounded.

Ward of the Ancients' Shield

2	Hits have a chance to pull the target toward you.
3	You take less knockback.
4	Sneak + right-click: Event Horizon - wrench every nearby enemy toward you and slam them with damage (25s cd).

Requiem of the Dying Constellation

CELESTIAL

Pieces	Effect
1	Bonus damage against enemies below 30% health.
2	You heal for a share of that extra finishing damage.
3	The bonus grows the lower the target's health is - up to +75% damage against the nearly dead.
4	The killing blow - any hit that would leave an enemy below 7.5% health finishes them outright. No button to press.

A finisher's set: the lower the target's health, the harder it hits.

THE ULTIMATE SET

One tier above legendary, and the only set that cannot be found. It is forged out of two finished legendary sets.

Will of the Iron Revenant

ULTIMATE

The one set above legendary, and the only one you cannot find. It is forged: put a Wrath of the Unconquered King piece and a Grief of the Ruined King piece of the same slot together on a crafting table, and the two dead kings become a single netherite Revenant piece with an emerald Silence trim. Two legendary sets are consumed to build one ultimate one, so a full Revenant set costs eight legendary pieces.

Nothing counters the Revenant. Anything it strikes stays struck - no other set may revive, rewind, reflect or shrug off its work, and a kill it lands is final.

A death-and-armor set. Every mob or player you kill harvests a Soul (bigger kills = more), banked and shown on a boss bar. Souls make you tankier and are your currency for cheating death.

Pieces	Effect
1	Global Unbreaking III and you begin harvesting souls on every kill.
2	Souls sustain you (passive regen) and repair all your gear (Mending). Every 10 banked souls = +1 armor toughness (max +18) - the more you've killed, the harder you are to kill.
3	40% of damage you take becomes a decaying overshield (never heals more than you lost), plus a flat 25% damage reduction , and immunity to fire, drowning and hunger .
4	You cannot die - a lethal blow instead spends 25 souls to revive you at full health; with no souls left, you truly fall. You also raise an Undead Legion of your 10 strongest kills , ranked by each mob's true combat strength (every mob in the game is scored - a Warden or Wither tops the list, then heavies like Ravager, Iron Golem and Evoker, then casters and ranged mobs, with weak mobs at the bottom; a geared player ranks high too). Anything you or your thralls damage is marked - if it dies within 10 seconds by any hand , it's raised (no need to land the final blow). A higher-priority catch replaces your weakest thrall. Your thralls' kills also grow the Legion, feed you souls, and still drop XP. Player thralls wear their own stolen gear. Thralls glow so you can spot them, auto-attack hostile mobs, and never break or grief blocks . Against players they hold their fire - they attack a player only while you're attacking that player , never on their own and never even if a player hits them. They never attack, knock back, or debuff you - a Warden thrall will not sonic-boom you and its Darkness (and an Elder Guardian's Mining Fatigue) never touch their own master. Your Legion persists across restarts and fallen thralls re-raise. Removing any piece = instant death, wipes your souls , and frees the Legion - player-thralls drop their gear, mob-thralls drop nothing (no farms). Nightfall right-click cycles the Legion through Normal (hunt hostiles) → Passive (hold, attack nothing) → Stored (despawned but kept - cycle again to re-summon them).

Ultimate - it never appears at an enchanting table, in a loot chest or on a book. The forge recipe is the only way it exists.

Complete the full set and you are given Nightfall - the Iron Revenant's mace. It has no blade of its own: every hit deals 7.5% of the target's max health as true damage, and it cycles your Legion (Normal / Passive / Stored) on right-click.

THE EXALTED SET

One tier above Ultimate, and above everything - the highest set that will ever exist. It never rolls or drops; it is crafted from the union of Mount Targon itself. Fill every one of the 3x3 crafting grid's nine slots with a matching-slot armor piece (all helmets, or all chestplates, etc.) carrying one of the nine CELESTIAL set enchants (see CELESTIAL SETS, above) - one of each, no repeats - and the grid fuses them into the matching netherite Aurelion piece (amethyst Silence trim). All nine pieces are consumed; there's nothing returned, so a full Aurelion set costs 36 celestial pieces in total (nine per slot).

Hymn of the Star Forger

EXALTED

Aurelion Sol's set. It runs on Star Dust - a cosmic economy where every item in the game has a Star Dust value (like EMC from ProjectE). You bank Star Dust from kills and mined ores, and the more you already hold, the faster it grows (up to 3.25x). The set gives no combat stats - its power is the forge.

Pieces	Effect
1	You begin gathering Star Dust from every kill and every ore you mine, and gain permanent Regeneration .
2	Night Vision, Water Breathing, Fire Resistance and Saturation .
3	You can FLY (straight-up creative flight) and take no fall damage .
4	You are given the Celestial Codex . Right-click it to open the Star Forge : shift-click any item to burn it (banks its Star Dust value and remembers it exactly - enchantments, names and all), then click a remembered item to forge a fresh copy for its cost (18.75% cheaper at full set, always full durability - never broken gear; shift-click forges a stack). Right-click a remembered item to forget it and clear it out of the forge.

Enchanted items cost more Star Dust to recreate than plain ones. The damage reduction and damage bonus both scale with how much Star Dust you're holding, so a huge hoard makes you both tankier and deadlier.

☞ Getting an enchant: enchant an armor piece or a book at a table, then anvil the book onto each piece. Build the set up one tier at a time. A book can hold any of these, so books are the easiest way to farm them. The custom enchants roll often at a table; the two legendaries stay rare (a maxed table, or ~2% enchanted books in loot chests, now ~4%). Each armor piece can only hold ONE set enchant - they're mutually exclusive, so you can't stack two sets on the same gear. More pieces of the same set worn = higher tier.

World Level

The server runs at a higher World Level than vanilla: every hostile mob spawns with +25% max health (already topped up when it spawns) and deals +25% damage in any form - melee, arrows, fireballs, all of it. Bring friends, gear up, and expect a real fight.

Tool & Weapon Enchants

40 more enchantments, but these aren't sets - they go on swords, axes, pickaxes, shovels, hoes, shields, bows, crossbows, the trident and the mace, exactly like vanilla enchants (Sharpness, Efficiency, and so on). No exclusivity - stack as many as an item can legally carry. They roll at the enchanting table and apply from books via an anvil, same as everything else. Four tiers, rarest to most common: MYTHIC < MASTER < ADEPT < TRAINED.
